SCENE IN THE TROPICS

Nate Ruess has fun with 'House of Cards' star

Michael Kelly, also known as Doug Stamper on Netflix's acclaimed TV series House of Cards, traded in his White House badge for a music pass when he was spotted rocking out in the crowd-crowding Nate Ruess' private concert for Starwood Preferred Guest members Friday at the Aloft Miami Doral and Element Miami Doral.

The show included songs from Ruess' first solo album Grand Romantic, which dropped earlier this month, as well as some old classics including the crowd favorite We Are Young.

The actor and Grammy-winning songwriter of fun hit it off earlier in the evening, when Ruess admitted that he has only seen one episode of House of Cards.

Kelly jokingly nudged Ruess to do and noted that "a whole bunch of crazy s--- is about to happen this season!"

Bystanders overhearing the two make plans to meet up in September when Ruess performs in Washington, D.C., where Kelly will be finishing filming season 4.

John Lithgow and his wife were seen eating Sunday at Pérez Art Museum Miami.

Criminal Minds star Shemar Moore was seen Sunday at Nikki Beach, hanging with Miami nightlife honcho Emi Guerra and sipping on a jumbo mojito bowl. On Saturday, Moore was spotted hanging upstairs at Bodega Taqueria y Tequila. Afterward, Moore was spotted partying and dancing with an entourage of 25 friends until 5 a.m.

Making his Miami rounds, soccer star Cristiano Ronaldo dined like a king Friday at Bagatelle Miami. He arrived with a party of four plus three security guards. Escorted by security to the bathroom when needed, Ronaldo and friends danced and enjoyed copious amounts of food as well as bottles of wine, vodka and champagne, staying until closing time.

'Real Housewives' star talks 100th episode

You've come a long way, ladies. Tuesday night's episode of Real Housewives of New York City is a biggie — the Bravo reality show's 100th (it airs at 9 p.m.).

To celebrate, the comedy cast moved the dramatics over to Turks & Caicos, where — surprise, surprise — a meltdown for the cable network's history books ensues.

As a lesser show, consensus is that Sonia Morgan has a drinking problem and a few of the socialite's "Friends" stage a beach-side confrontation that looks sort of like an intervention, only with chaise lounges and hibinias.

LuAnn de Lesseps said she tried her best to rise above all the yelling and crying (warning: Ramona Singer and Bethenny Frankel sired more than a few tears over their failed marriages to Mario Singer and Jason Hoppy, respectively).

"We filmed a year ago so their breakups were really fresh," says de Lesseps by phone. "The drama does escalate, but there was a lot of fun on the trip too. It's a beautiful place and we had an amazing house."

The unique former model and clothing designer (The Countess Collection, which she describes as "chic, easy and affordable") is sold on vintage) has another reason to celebrate. Her third single, Girl Code, drops Wednesday. De Lesseps performed it on Witch What Happens Live last week with her daughter, graphic artist Victoria (with ex-husband, Count Alexandre De Lesseps and host Andy Cohen called the "70s inspired dirty" "song of the summer."

Besides the funky beat, apparently, there's some meaning behind it. Listen to the lyrics: "I'm the girl who's always loyal to the end. People come and go but I'll always be your friend... Don't be so..."

Though LuAnn didn't comment on whom the track was about, rumor has it the etiquette author wasn't pleased that castmate Carole Radziwili began cooing on LuAnn's sexy personal chef Adam Kent worthy because he also happens to be the ex of LuAnn's niece, Oy, meow.

"No one's really done a song about the so-called girl code," says de Lesseps about the practice of not hooking up with another pal's ex. "It's multi-generational and has gone on since, well, forever, and will through the end of time."

As one of the stars of the RHO NYC since it first started up in March 2008, de Lesseps believes she has had book-

I've been through so much. I've seen my [two] kids grow up. I've grown up, too. I've gone through divorce and came out the other side. This is a documentary of my life. It's why I'm glad I decided to do the show."

Expect LuAnn back in our neck of the woods come December for Art Basel. Last year, Victoria showed some of her artwork in Miami and de Lesseps is hoping the 20-year-old will have another exhibit.

CELEBRITY ROUNDUP

Jessie J's mystery illness; Ciara steels

What's wrong with Jessie J? The British Borg Borg singer Instagrammed a picture of an IV drip in her arm with the post, "I am not ok... I am in a lot of pain," but added doctors were doing their best. "I'm here trying my best to not let it win," Jessie canceled shows over the weekend in Europe before checking into a hospital for a surgical procedure, she told fans.

IN TREATMENT
In related news, Avril Lavigne is getting her debilitating Lyme disease under control but said on Good Morning America Monday that the period before the diagnosis was hell. "It literally became bedridden last October," said the Canadian singer, who went through the interview. "They would pull up their computer and be like, 'Chris, you have Lyme disease or ask if she was depressed."

BACK IN ACTION
Ciara has a new, old boyfriend. The One Step Ahead singer brought an on-again ex to the BET Awards Sunday night. Seattle Seahawks quarterback Russell Wilson.

TAYLOR, HELP!
This takes nerve: A man charged with trespassing at Taylor Swift's Rhode Island mansion wants the singer to testify on his behalf. The Westerly Sun reports 24-year-old Nicholas Field was back in court Friday. He was arrested in April and charged with willful trespassing at the singer's mansion. Field says he wants Swift to be served with a subpoena to appear in court. Surveillance video shows Field approaching the gate to deliver a letter; cops say he was manipulating the gate when he was arrested.

SOLID AS A ROCK
Dwayne Johnson has broken his silence on his personal life. In a recent interview with Esquire, the pro wrestler turned action hero gave his live-in girlfriend, singer-songwriter Lauren Hashian, a shout-out. "We do these stories, and we talk so much about the business end, the success end," said Johnson, who credits Hashian as well as his 15-year-old daughter Simone (who lives in South Florida with The Rock's ex, Dany Garcia) with much of his success. "With all the cool stuff that I've been lucky enough to get. That doesn't happen unless the home life is solid."

BAD BLOOD
It seems to be over: Kate Hudson or her brother Oliver Hudson are going to drop their last names as their father Bill Hudson has requested when he announced he was divorcing the two kids he had with Gretelle Hawn. The family feud first went public after a Pa-
